The History of Hawk Talk

Our class decided to find a name for our school newsletter. We wanted to get all the students of ESOMS involved in the search for a name. We organized a contest to find the best possible name for our school newsletter.

This meant visiting classrooms and explaining the contest to them. We had to write scripts and stand in front of classes to explain the contest to all the students.

The goal of the contest was to find the best possible name for our newsletter. The name had to be creative. It also had to represent our bilingual school. So the search was on!

We received many creative suggestions. The amazing class of Mme Brodeur in Room 24 gave us our new name and we hope to use it for centuries to come!

Parent Council Update

Our next PAC meeting will be on Tuesday, December 6th at 7:00 pm (instead of the usual 6:30) in the ESOMS staffroom. City of Winnipeg Councillor Ross Eadie has gladly accepted an invitation to be at this meeting to talk with us about some recent traffic and pedestrian concerns that have arisen in the neighbourhoods surrounding both ESOMS and Victory schools. We have invited the Victory School PAC to join us at this meeting. We look forward, as always, to having some great conversation about your children's' education and look forward to seeing you at this meeting.

Operation Donation

On Wednesday December 1, ESOMS is starting their annual "Operation Donation"! Operation Donation is a drive to collect money and food items for the Christmas Cheerboard. Our school's commitment is to put together 10 hampers for families in need in the West Kildonan area. We are asking for each student to bring in a food donation(students will have the opportunity to volunteer for items) and a monetary donation of $2.00 so we are able to purchase toys and turkeys for the hampers. Thank you very much for supporting families in need within our community.

A huge thank you to parents and teachers who drove our Incredibows students to go to watch BARRAGE at the Franco Manitoban Center on Nov. 26. Financial Frenzy

Money, money, money! A word everyone wants to hear. Our class has been working on a math project based on life. We had to buy an apartment, get a job, and had to calculate how much money we spent and how much we had left for everyday needs. Some of us ended up unemployed, confused or just plain broke!

We work on this every week with the help of Mrs. Lindsay. I like this project because it really made everyone open up their eyes to how life really gets sometimes, and it taught us the value of money. It's really fun. What a financial frenzy!

Winnipeg Harvest

Did you know that Winnipeg Harvest relies on volunteers? If there were no volunteers there would be no Winnipeg Harvest!

Our class did some volunteer work at Winnipeg Harvest this fall. First we took a tour of Winnipeg Harvest, then our class got right to work bagging and boxing sugar and flour. We washed our hands, put on aprons and hair nets, then separated off into groups of two. There were three jobs: "fillers" "walkers" and "baggers." We got to try all of them. The "fillers" would re-fill the metal bins with sugar and flour. The "walkers" would take the filled bags and put them into a box. There had to be exactly 20 bags per box. And last but not least, the "baggers" would scoop the flour and sugar into the bags, and then tie them up. Winnipeg Harvest is an amazing place to be and work. Our class brought a lot of food donations and we really want to go back!

Awesome Maps in Room 17

This month in Social Studies we worked on maps. We split into 6 groups. Each group was assigned a different continent. The only continent that wasn't made was Antarctica. They were all 3D in some form or another.

What we did was put plasticine to cover the entire land form. Some groups did elevation while others did vegetation. We had to pin-point the most populated cities. Tags were made to show the latitude and longitude, the population and the name of the city. Groups also had to show natural and man-made wonders.

Overall, this experience was awesome. We got to work in groups and learn about the ideas of elevation, population, vegetation and landforms. It was nice to use different materials to work with, such as plasticine and work with our hands. They are also very nice to look at, so please feel free to drop in and check them out. Signing out,

Veronica and Sara – Reporters for room 17

L'Histoire du Père Noël

Salle. 33 Mme. Pancotto

Saint-Nicolas est né en 280. Il était un prêtre chrétien qui après plusieurs années, est devenue un évêque. Il était un homme riche et il a voyagé partout en Europe. Il aidait les pauvres. Il leur donnait de l'argent et des cadeaux. Saint-Nicolas voulait passer inaperçu quand il distribuait les cadeaux. Donc les enfants allaient se coucher tôt parce que qu'ils pensaient que Saint-Nicolas ne venait pas s'ils étaient réveillés.

Aujourd'hui, rien n'a changé. Les enfants doivent encore aller se coucher tôt pour recevoir une visite du Père Noël.

Une autre histoire de Saint-Nicolas était à propos d'un homme pauvre qui n'avait pas assez d'argent pour donner un cadeau à sa fille le jour de son mariage. Saint-Nicolas est venue chez eux et il a mis de l'argent dans les bas de la fille de l'homme. Ses bas étaient pendus près de la cheminée pour sécher. C'est pourquoi les enfants pendent leur bas la veille de Noël en espérant des cadeaux du Père Noël.

Students visit Siloam Mission

Salle 13 – M. Hall

On Tuesday, November 22 our class took a field trip to Siloam mission which is located at 300 Princess St. in downtown Winnipeg. Some of us had been there before, but it has been renovated quite a bit. We walked up four flights of stairs and we discussed what home means to us. We then took a tour of the four storey building and saw the great work that the people at Siloam Mission are doing. On the fourth floor we saw the gym that is made up of donated equipment. Then we rode the one hundred year old freight elevator to another floor where we saw where everyone sleeps. The most interesting thing we saw was the art room where people can make all kinds of different forms of art.

At Siloam Mission there is room for about 190 people in the cafeteria, yet there are around 1000 meals served every day. For Thanksgiving, however, they serve 1000 meals not including breakfast and lunch. All food served at Siloam Mission comes from donations, including Christmas gifts that they give to people that come on Christmas. (This would include socks stuffed with toiletries and useful items). All donations are handled by helpful volunteers and some volunteers are doctors, dentists, and chiropractors who donate their services! One of their most special volunteers is their bedbug sniffing dog who is owned by two of the volunteers.

A New Face in room '15

There is always something new going on in Mrs. Cervantes grade 6 class room. However, these grade 6 students were really curious when they came to school and saw a new face in their class room 3 weeks ago. The students have a new teacher candidate in their class. Their new teachers name is Mr. MacLeod. After seeing Mr. MacLeod for the first time, one of the students said this, "I was surprised to see Mr. MacLeod in our class, I wanted to know how long he was going to stay."

In looking at the faces of the students, we noticed that they seemed to really enjoy Mr. MacLeod in the class. When we asked students about having Mr. MacLeod in the class, Sam said, "I feel good because there are two teachers that could help you and he is funny too!" Mishel also agreed with Sam, "He's a really big help."

Mr. MacLeod has taught lessons on drawing the eye, mapping and mathematics (about prime, and composite numbers). Mr. MacLeod has had some previous experience in working with children. He has been an Educational Assistant for 5 years and has also taught Rugby.

By the looks of things, we think that Mr. MacLeod will definitely have a bright future in education. We wish him the best of luck in his upcoming term at the University of Manitoba and look forward to having him in our classroom in the Spring of 2012!

Our Ethnic Feast

Room 31 – Mrs. Courchene

In our grade 8 class Social Studies class, we completed an assignment about our family's history, backgrounds, and culture. It was called, "My Family," and then we came up with the idea of doing a class feast. We have a diverse classroom and accept everyone. Everyone was encouraged to share a food item that was related to their culture. Our families contributed by preparing the food and we ate it as a class. It was a great way to bring together different cultures. We had a lot of fun experiencing the different foods that our classmates brought. It was nice that people showed pride in their culture by sharing cultural foods.

There was a terrific variety. We had items such as Jamaican beef patties, Ojibway moose meat pies, Metis bannock, and much more. We tried a lot of new food that we are not normally accustomed to and found out that we enjoyed them. Everyone is unique in their own way and especially with the foods that they brought to share.

The food was amazing. It was a blast in the class. It was a lunchtime well spent. We are privileged to have the experience of celebrating our heritage. Everyone should accept people for who they are and what they eat. We learned more about our friend's cultures than we ever would have from just talking.

Waskul's Class Update

The month of November flew by! I guess we've had a lot of fun ☺

In Math, some of the fantastic things we've done include adding and subtracting fraction. We had a pop quiz on fractions and have had multiple worksheets on this.

In History, we are working on a new unit. Our previous unit was "Early Man" but we wrapped that up this month. Our lovely student teacher, Miss. Adamus, is teaching us "Ancient Egypt". I think we all enjoy it. We are also learning about the Holocaust.

In Language Arts, we are doing a Holiday Project. We also did an "Expository Writing" assignment. We had to write a step-by-step book about something that we know how to do well.

In Science, we are starting to learn about Systems. Currently, we are focusing on the circulatory system. We finished our Cells unit by ending it with a test.

In French, Miss. Adamus is also doing a unit on food with my class. I'm sure it will be fun.

November was a great month so here's hoping December will be even better!!!

A Week to Remember

The week leading up Remembrance Day room 26 looked at the history connected to Remembrance Day. We examined the significance of the poppy. We researched the connection between this day of remembrance and the soldiers who fought for our freedom in World War 1. There were many students who shared their personal stories of family members who fought in for our country and in some cases even gave up their lives. While many of these stories were sad, they were also stories of courage and hope. Near the end of the week the students created posters that reflected what Remembrance Day meant to them.

On the 10th of November we had a Remembrance Day assembly in the gym. There was a presentation on the poem Flanders Field that was presented by Madame Henry's class. It was a great presentation. The assembly was a time of remembrance that brought the whole school community together.

After this week I realized that Remembrance Day is important because there were so many that fought for our country. Even after these people pass on, it we must not forget them and what they did for us.
